

Evangadi Networks is a network of people who believe in the power of collaboration with a common goal of nurturing one another to grow together.

Evangadi was founded by Adugna to help people learn coding and reduce economic inequality through empowerment, not handouts.

Evangadi Tech specializes in assisting small enterprises in navigating the shift to the digital age by offering comprehensive end-to-end services.

Evangadi Academy is designed to help starters who are just joining the technology field with skill trainings and support to become technology professionals.

Evangadi believes in meritocracy: when the playing field is level, those who create the most value for society should rise to the top.

In November 2019, Evangadi launched its full-stack development course, starting from basic computer literacy and adapting it into the Amharic language.

It took over five years for Evangadi to build a scalable model that truly empowers under-served communities.

Evangadi has joined over 2500 students worldwide across its programs.

Evangadi has over 3000 students granted full access to course materials.

Evangadi has awarded over 700 full scholarships to students from underserved communities.

Evangadi has received over 10000 applications from students seeking to join its programs.

Evangadi offers a 30-day free trial for its developer hiring and empowerment services.

Evangadi headquarters is located in Maryland, USA.

Evangadi also has an office in Ethiopia.

Evangadi contact phone number is (202) 386-2702.

Evangadi support email is support@evangadi.com.

Evangadi website is <https://evangadi.com>.

Evangadi is on Facebook at facebook.com/evangaditech, Instagram at instagram.com/evangaditech, and YouTube.

Evangadi live class sessions are held on Saturday and Sunday.

Evangadi group sessions are held on Tuesday and Thursday.

The May 2026 batch class will start on May 22 at 1:00pm EST with a first-day orientation session.

Scholarship applications for the May 2026 batch are due on May 6.